NEW YORK.

Henry B. Bowen Charged with Slandering Rev. H. W. Beecher.

A FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY.

A Business Firm Swindling the Revenue Department.

THE MURDERER SHARKEY'S CASE.

Mysterious Disappearance of Pauper Children.

NEW YORK, June 28.

A Perjured Soldier.

Daniel A. Sutherton sought his discharge from the army to-day on the ground of [illegible]ity. Anticipating a decision in his favor the United States District Attorney obtained an order for his arrest on a charge of perjury, which was served as he left Court. He attempted to [illegible], but was intercepted by the Deputy Marshal, when a rough-and-tumble fight took place in the corridor of the Court room. Sutherton's father came to the assistance of his son, and at the same time another Deputy Marshal came to the support of his associate. The Suthertons were finally overpowered and taken back to Court, when the younger was held on a charge of perjury and the senior on a charge of [illegible] an officer.

Swindling the Revenue Department.

The Express says the name of the firm whose books have been seized by the Custom House officials, is Duden, Freres & Co., [illegible] charge of having, during a series of years, carried on a systematic course of swindling the Revenue Department. Their principal house is in Brussels, and they have branches in Nottingham, London, St. Petersburg, San Francisco and New York. Richard M[illegible] and Frederick Muser carry on the business in New York, and Otto Muser the San Francisco house. Phelps, of the Custom House, [illegible] his intention of obtaining a capias for the arrest of Richard Muser. An [illegible] arrest was also to be obtained in New [illegible] part of the laces having been smuggled [illegible] boken, according to affidavits. The [illegible] will reach the enormous sum of $25,000. [illegible] is alleged this house is trying to form itself into a joint stock company to evade part of [illegible] bility. The customs officials, it is claimed, taken an illegal step in seizing the books of the firm, the proper course of action being [illegible] applied to the United States District Court to have the books seized and left in the custody of the United States Court for examination.

The Beecher-Bowen Affair.

The Brooklyn Eagle says the Examining Committee of Plymouth Church received from P. West a specific charge of slander against Henry B. Bowen. It is charged that [illegible] circulated slanders against Henry Ward Beecher which are false, and his (Bowen's) expulsion is called for. An investigation is to be made immediately. Beecher is desirous that an investigation should be made at once. The charge is referred to Deacons and members of the examining committee. Four Deaconesses are members of this Examining Committee. The [illegible] adds: This morning a reporter called on Halliday, who, in answer to a request for [illegible] of the charges, said—"You can't get the[illegible] [illegible] me, sir." He further refused any information concerning the proposed investigation. [illegible] reporter came in contact with several prominent members of Beecher's church, and the general opinion seemed to be that it would be [illegible] for the church if this investigation were [illegible] on in public. On very good authority [illegible] ascertained that the charges refer in the [illegible] to certain utterances made by Bowen at a recent conference which took place at the [illegible] of Victoria C. Woodhull.

The Murderer Sharkey's Case.

An application was made to-day in the Court of General Sessions for a new trial in the case of Wm. J. Sharkey, convicted of the murder of Robert Dunn. One of the errors cited [illegible] language used by Recorder Hackett in his charge to the jury: "I consider any man using language the prisoner did at the time of the killing, as testified by witnesses, would be most unfit to live." Three of the jurors [illegible] in saying they would not have agreed to a verdict of murder in the first degree but that they thought the accompanying recommendation to mercy carried with it a sentence of imprisonment for life.

The Car Hook Murder.

The Superior Court (general term) to-day affirmed judgment against the Railroad Company amounting to $5,000, to the widow of Avery D. Putnam, the victim of the car hook murder.

The Traffic in Italian Children.

A mass meeting is to be held in this city Monday evening next to excite public sentiment that will force a stoppage of the traffic in Italian children.

Alleged Incendiary Arrested.

Merris Spender has been arrested on a charge of setting fire this morning to shanties on E[illegible] avenue.

Arrival of a Burglar.

Jim Munday, the New York burglar captured in Cleveland, has arrived here.

NEW YORK June 29, 1873.

Mysterious Disappearance of Pauper Children.

A strange mystery, involving the alleged disappearance of eighteen helpless children, who had been committed as infant paupers to the public institutions on Blackwell's Island, is being investigated by the Commissioners of Charities. The little creatures, it is said, were "farmed out" to a lady, and she seems to be unable to tell whether they are living or dead.

Criminalities.

Last night a fight took place in John Gaffney's rooms, No. 505 West Nineteenth street, during which James Fitzpatrick, of Fifteenth street, was thrown from a window to the area below, receiving fatal injuries.

John O'Brien was fatally stabbed in Hoboken last night by a ruffian bearing the same name as himself. The murder was without provocation.

Frightful Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon a team of horses attached to a coach containing two servants and the children of Mr. Fleet, son-in-law of ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch, took fright on Prospect Park and ran away. The coach was capsized and one of the children instantly killed. [illegible] servant had a leg and arm broken.

Libel Suit.

The News says Oliver Charlick has brought suit against the Times for alleged libel on different articles published in that paper within the space of one month, ten thousand dollars damages being laid in each case.

Arrival of Emigrants.

Eighty-five hundred emigrants arrived at this port last week.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MEADVILLE.

College Commencement—The Graduates—Miss Nash—Degrees—The College—Homeward Bound—Franklin—Down the River—Its Scenery—Smoky City, &c.

MEADVILLE, PA., June 26, 1872.

A little company of persons left your city on Tuesday evening for this place. Their route of travel was by way of the Erie and Pittsburgh, and the Atlantic and Great Western Railways. Rapid running and close connections brought us here in a short time. We find that through all this region of country seasonable weather has prevailed, so that the crops promise finely. Meadville is a pleasant little city. It is beautiful for situation and the joy, and boast of all its inhabitants. It appears cosy and comfortable rather than energetic and enterprising. It is a delightful place to live. It is the seat of Allegheny College, an institution which has made for itself a good record. Many of the Alumni occupy distinguished positions in Church and State. Its commencement exercises are now taking place. For several days past classes have been examined, and in the evenings the several literary societies have held their anniversaries. On last evening the Alumni Association held its annual meeting. Rev. W. A. Davidson presided. Dr. C. A. Holmes, of Allegheny, made the prayer. Dr. W. B. Watkins, of your city, delivered the address. His theme was, "The Use, Abuse and Beauty of English Words." The Doctor acquitted himself finely. His audience was delighted. The Doctor is certainly one of our best lecturers.

MEADVILLE, PA., June 26, 1873.

This morning an audience, quite respectable in size and appearance, assembled in the M. E. church to participate in the exercises of the Forty-seventh Anniversary of Allegheny College. The weather fine, bright, and cool. A voluntary on the organ. Prayer by the Rev. Dr. Kidder, of the Drew Theological Seminary, New Jersey.

Charles E. Loomis, of Athica, N. Y., was the first orator. He had for his theme, "Natural Importance of Scientific Research."

"Our Country" was discussed by Wilburn McClintock, Meadville, Pa. This young man had his hair parted in the middle.

Thomas H. Woodring, Meadville, Pa., spoke naturally, earnestly, and interestingly, on "The Literary Renaissance."

Russell A. McKinley, Waterloo, Pa., gave us an earnest and thoughtful discussion of "Assimilation." He gave some of the vowels an immodest prominence.

"Industry a Pre-requisite to Success," was presented by Otis F. Hoffman, Warren, Pa.

Henry M. Miller, Meadeville, Pa., gave us "The Ideal in the Real."

"Motion vs. Rest" was talked of by Alfred D. Bedford, Worthington, Minn.

Henry S. Bates, Titusville, Pa., delighted the audience with a touching and eloquent oration. His theme was: "The Isle of Circe."

M. C. Harris, Meadville, Pa., showed in a very pleasant and forcible manner that "Man is above nature." This young man goes to Japan as a missionary.

Joseph S. Stewart, Allegheny City, Pa., gave us "Telegraphy and Prof. Morse."

"Progressive Tendencies of the Age" were plainly and forcibly presented by James M. Williams, of Plainfield, Ohio.

Now came a practical and happy illustration of the foregoing. Miss M. E. D. Nash, of Meadville, Pa., read an essay on "The Silent." Miss Nash is the first lady graduate of Allegheny College. She does honor to herself and her Alma Mater. The Faculty bear testimony that she completed the curriculum of study most successfully. In scholarship she is the peer of her fourteen brothers in the class. She made herself such under difficulties. She is an orphan, and for means of support she has been dependent upon her own hands. She has literally and nobly worked her way through. Her appearance is rather prepossessing. Of medium size and pretty form, having dark hair and eyes, she appears to good advantage on the platform. She has a pleasant, distinct voice, and she articulates well. Her essay was thoughtful, and clothed in chaste and elegant language. She read it to an audience held in profound silence by the impressive manner of her reading.

Thomas M. Honeywell, Meadville, Pa., discussed "The Development of Language."

"Centenary of American Independence" was the theme of Samuel B. Griffith, Mercer, Pa.

The valedictory was delivered by George J. Wolf, Allegheny City, Pa.

Dr. Loomis, the President of the College, conferred the degree of A. B. on the fourteen young gentlemen and the one young lady of the present graduating class. He did it in plain English. Sensible.

The degree of A. M. was conferred in cursu on ten of the Alumni.

Rev. John Tribby, of Ohio, was honored with the degree of A. M.

Allegheny College is doing good work—making thorough scholars. She has ample facilities. [illegible] ought to have a large increase of students. Let her friends remember her, and patronize her more heartily than ever before.

The regular annual gathering took place at the house of President Loomis in the evening. It was a fine affair. A very large number of ladies and gentlemen present, and all seemed to enjoy the occasion. Old and young, the grave and the gay, were alike happy. The Doctor and his good wife know how to make their guests feel home.

About ten o'clock attention was directed to the skies. There was a remarkable Boreal phenomenon. A beautiful belt or ribbon starting in the northwestern horizon ran up over our head stretching itself nearly down to the opposite horizon. It was of irregular width, with one or two slight curvatures. It had the appearance of pure white gauze—a sort of celestial bal veil. It gradually disappeared. Soon after the guests bade good night to their host and hostess, and sought the quiet of their own homes. So ended Commencement Exercises.

Your correspondent acknowledges himself [illegible] indebted, for kindnesses, to many old friends in Meadville, and especially to Mr. Joseph Derickson and his noble wife. They know how to show genuine hospitality.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

Left Meadville Friday morning at 7 A. M. Down French creek in a comfortable car at moderate rate of speed. A delightful ride through a pleasant valley. Franklin reached—a quiet county seat of five thousand inhabitants, cosily set down at the mouth of French creek, and environed, on the river side, by high hills; these hills, side and top, are perforated with oil wells. Franklin has a good Court House, nine churches, good sidewalks, and many other things worthy of commendation.

Here we were fortunate enough to fall into the hands of Judge McCalmont, with whom and his charming family we spent a delightful hour.

AMERICUS.

LEGISLATURE APPORTIONMENT

A Proposition for a New Basis of Representation.

In the Constitutional Convention last Friday, when the question of Legislative apportionment came up, Hon. John N. Purviance submitted the following proposition, which provides for representation according to taxables, and not according to population, which is the present basis:

In the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and every seventh year thereafter, representatives to the number of one hundred and fifty-one shall be apportioned and distributed equally throughout the State by districts, in proportion to the number of taxable inhabitants in the several parts thereof, except that each county shall be entitled to at least one representative in the House of Representatives, and that counties shall not be joined in order to form districts, and no county shall be divided in the formation of a district. Any city or county having an excess of three-fifths of the ratio over one or more ratios, shall be entitled to an additional member. Any city containing a sufficient number of taxables to entitle it to at least two Representatives, shall be divided into convenient districts of contiguous territory, of equal taxable population as near as may be, each of which districts shall elect one Representative.

OF DISTRICTS FOR ELECTING SENATORS.

The Senators shall be chosen in districts to be formed by the Legislature; but no district shall be so formed as to entitle it to elect more than two Senators, and no city or county shall be entitled to elect more than ten Senators. When a district shall be composed of two or more counties they shall be adjoining, and no county shall be divided in forming a district. The city of Philadelphia shall be divided into single Senatorial districts of contiguous territory, as nearly equal in taxable population as possible, but no ward shall be divided in the formation thereof.

THE RATIO OF REPRESENTATION IN SENATE.

The numbers of Senators shall be fixed and apportioned among the districts formed as hereinafter directed, according to the number of taxable inhabitants in each.

The number of taxable inhabitants in the several counties of the State in the year 1870 was [illegible] 21. This includes the cities.

This number divided by 150 fixes the ratio of representation at 5,734, and gives to the [illegible] as follows:

Taxable Inhab'ts.	Counties.	Members.	Taxable Inhab'ts.	Counties.	Members.

THE members of the State Editorial Association gathered at Danville, Montour county, on Tuesday last. The people of that town made the fraternity welcome. The day was spent in visiting the Insane Asylum and the immense iron works for which Danville is noted. In the evening a grand banquet was given to the members of the Association at the Montour House, after which a ball was held. On Wednesday morning the members of the Association, accompanied by their wives, started on a special train for Mauch Chunk. Thursday the business meeting was held at Wilkesbarre, and Friday the "fraternity" stole away.

A BEAUTIFUL and costly monument has recently been erected near Scrubgrass, on the east bank of the Allegheny river, to the memory of Dr. Wright, agent for Roberts' torpedoes, and Harry J. Wolf, Western Union Telegraph operator, who were blown to atoms last winter while visiting a glycerine machine at the above named place. The monument is of fine marble, about sixteen feet in height, and surrounded by a very neat and substantial iron fence. The monument was paid for by the personal friends of the unfortunate gentlemen, and the fence is the gift of Colonel William Philips, President of the Allegheny Valley railroad, and cost the Colonel $1,200.

A GREAT "moral show" visited Tionesta the other day, and is thus described by the local scribe: "In order not to offend the fastidious and uncompromising piety of Brother Grove, the exhibition was confined exclusively to sacred scenery, as explained at the opening of the entertainment; and we must say that there were more scenes presented than we ever supposed to have been recorded in Holy Writ—such for instance as the "Bombardment of Fort Sumter," the "Rat Catcher," "Paddy on the Canal," etc. But they were all well received with the single exception perhaps of Jonah and the whale, which some skeptical old scoundrel on a back seat said was a sucker story, and that he couldn't swallow it."

THERE are four soldiers of the war of 1812 living in Fairview township, York county: John Sutton, aged 80; George Traver, aged 79; Jas. McDaniel, about 80, and Wm. Naylor, aged 84 years. Mr. Naylor shouldered his own gun, and joined the army at Baltimore in 1812. He walked three and a half miles last fall and this spring to deposit his vote, and is still remarkably active for one of his years. He had four sons in the late war—one of whom fell at Lookout Mountain. Mr. Naylor had made application himself to join the Union army, but was refused admission into the ranks on account of his old age. He insisted then that one of his little boys should take his place, in the capacity of a drummer, but the request was also refused, as the lad was too small, and Mr. Naylor had already done nobly in furnishing material for the Union army.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The Article on Oath of Office—An Iron Clad Amendment—The Article on Cities—Future Amendments.

On Friday afternoon the oath of office was considered and passed with the "iron clad" amendment, offered by Judge Black. The "iron clad" provides the oath is to be taken within twenty days after adjournment, and requires a member to swear or affirm that he has not knowingly listened to corrupt private co-operative solicitation from interested parties or their agents, nor received any gift from any such parties, nor from any candidate; that he has not voted or spoken on any matter in which he had or expected to have a private interest; that he has not done or willingly permitted to be done any act which would make him guilty of bribery; that he had observed the order and forms of legislation, and has not knowingly voted for any measure which he knew or believed to be inconsistent therewith. Failure to take the oath is to forever disqualify the party from holding any office of profit or trust under the Commonwealth. Intentional false swearing, in addition to disqualification, is to be treated as perjury.

The article prescribing the form in which future amendments to the Constitution shall be made was passed. It requires their passage by two succeeding Legislatures, and then publication in at least two newspapers in every county in which newspapers are published before submission to the people.

The article on county, township and borough officers was considered and passed. No material alteration was made. Adjourned.

Saturday Morning.

The article on cities and city charters was called up for consideration. The first section was read, and opposed by Mr. Dodd as unnecessary. The section was amended so as to require a population of 10,000 before a charter can be asked for.

The second section, providing that legislative power shall be vested in the Mayor and Council, was voted down as unnecessary in the Constitution.

The third section, relating to mayors of cities, was voted down.

Mr. Newlin offered an amendment to the fourth section, providing that no commission created by the Legislature shall have power to spend money, unless it is appropriated by the city authorities, which the Chair ruled out of order, as not germane to the subject.

On motion of Mr. Wallace the first eight lines of the fourth section were stricken out and the amendment voted down.

Mr. Dallas moved the section should be amended so as to read follows: Every municipality shall have exclusive power to pass laws for its own regulation, not repugnant to the Constitution or laws of the Commonwealth.

The section as amended, and as originally reported, was then voted down.

Mr. Newlin renewed his amendment as a new section, and it was agreed to. It provides that no commission shall spend money unless the same have been first appropriated by the municipal authorities.

The fifth and sixth sections were agreed to. The seventh, eighth and ninth sections were defeated. The tenth section was then defeated. The bill having been gone through with, the article was referred to the Committee on Revision. The Convention took a recess.

Threats by the Irreconcilables.

MADRID, June 29.—The Irreconcilables threaten to take up arms if a Ministry is formed exclusively of Members of the Right. The Authorities have made preparations to repress disorder, and have stationed a corp of the Civil Guards at the Palace of the Cortes.

ITALY.

Earthquake Shocks.

FLORENCE, June 29.—Strong shocks of earthquake were felt in the north of Italy at five o'clock this morning. The motion was severe in Venice and Verona, and caused a panic. There were several accidents in those cities, but no serious damage was done to persons or property. At other points the shocks were more violent and their effect disastrous. A dispatch from Treviso reports that at Feletto, near Conegliano, about thirty-five miles north of Venice, a church was destroyed by the earthquake and thirty-eight persons killed, and in four villages near Vittoria fourteen persons were killed and many injured. Great damage was also done in the town of Belluno, on the river Piave, fifty miles north of Venice.

ACHEEN.

Offers by the Dutch to Terminate the War.

LONDON, June 28.—A dispatch from Penang says the Dutch Government, with a view of terminating hostilities with Acheen, has offered to the Sultan to pay the expenses thus far incurred by the war, to rebuild the Mosque burned by the Dutch troops, to acknowledge the independence of the Sultan, and to abstain from interference with Mohammedanism. In return Holland asks that certain privileges be granted Duch traders at Acheenese ports.

TURKEY.

Anarchy in Bosnia.

VIENNA, June 28.—Complete anarchy prevails in Bosnia, caused by the persecutions of Christians by Mahommedans. In one district 270 Christians were murdered within six weeks, and no efforts have been made to arrest the murderers. Foreign representatives to Turkey demand an investigation, and call upon the authorities to offer protection to the persecuted people. The murders have greatly alarmed the Christians, and many of them are emigrating.

KHIVA.

The Capital Occupied by the Russians.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—An official telegraphic dispatch from General Kauffmann announces that the capital of Khiva was occupied by the Russian forces on the 10th of June. The Khan of Khiva fled to Youmandow.

Election in Scotland.

LONDON, June 28.—The election for member of House of Commons took place in Berwickshire, Scotland, yesterday, and resulted in the return of Mr. Miller, the Liberal candidate, by fourteen majority.

INDIANA.

Judge Lynch's Court—A Murderer Taken Out of the Salem Jail by a Mob and Hung.

NEW ALBANY, June 29.—About two o'clock this morning a mob estimated at from twenty-five to forty masked and heavily armed men went to the jail at Salem, Ind., and demanded the keys of the jail from the Deputy Sheriff. He refused them. They found the key to the outside door of the jail. They then took a sledge hammer and knocked the locks and fastenings from the cell door in which was Delos Heffren, confined for the murder of D. Halstead, a few days ago. Heffren showed fight, but retreated to the inner cell, when the mob threw fire balls into the cells, and while they were burning they would shoot at him, two or three shots hitting him. There were twenty-two or twenty-three balls picked up in the cell where Heffren stood. After wounding him, they took him to the railroad bridge, about thirty rods from the depot, and hung him, after which the mob suddenly disappeared as mysteriously as they had appeared. About four o'clock Heffren was taken down. At the Coroner's inquest the examining surgeon said the shots which hit Heffren would not have produced death. There is terrible excitement in the town.

Wagner, the Isle of Shoals Murderer, Recaptured.

PORTLAND, ME., June 29.—Lewis H. Wagner, the Isle of Shoals murderer, was arrested by a farmer in Farmington, New Hampshire, about thirty miles from Alfred, Maine, on Saturday afternoon. He called at the house of P. Tanner and asked for something to eat, saying he had eaten nothing for several days but a few plums and berries, which he found in the woods. He was foot sore and weary. While he was eating supper, Tanner, suspecting his identity, went out and called some neighbors to assist in arresting him. When he returned Wagner had finished eating and had started off into the woods again, but was pursued and captured. He will be taken to Alfred to-morrow.

—The Cairo and Fulton Railroad was completed on Saturday to Arkadelphia.

THE CAPITAL.

The Reason Why General Van Buren was Suspended from the Vienna Commissionership—Loss by Consolidating the Tobacco Tax—July Gold Sales and Bond Purchases—Sioux Indians Asking for Arms—The Credit Mobilier Suit—Decision on the Timber Culture Act.

WASHINGTON, June 28, 1873.

The Credit Mobilier Suit.

The statement having been published that the Credit Mobilier suit is likely to result in a failure, owing to the alleged movement to unite all the forces of the Union Pacific Railroad Company against the Government, and to other causes, the Attorney General says the name of Horace F. Clark was not cited in the bill in equity with the understanding that he and the company would remain neutral. The death of Clark will have no other effect than a delay until the name of the new President of the Company can be substituted. The Attorney General sees no reason whatever to change his belief that the proceedings instituted will be successful.

Decision on the Timber Culture Act.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has decided that while the provisions of the first section of the timber culture act of March 3, 1873, do not in their terms limit a qualified person in the number of entries he may make thereunder, yet the policy of the Government as expressed in the Public Land Laws generally, is so opposed to a speculative monopoly of the public domain that under authority vested in him by the sixth section of said act, he has ruled that one individual shall be allowed to make but one entry.

WASHINGTON, June 29, 1873.

Gen. Van Buren's Case.

The question has been presented as to what action is to be taken by our Government concerning General Van Buren, ex-Chief Commissioner at Vienna. It is safe to say that as the Government has never preferred any charges against him, no action will be taken by it, and it may here be repeated that Gen. Van Buren was suspended the same as other officers are suspended for irregularities, or other reasons, and successors appointed in cases where the public interests may be better served by such changes. Nothing has appeared to show that General Van Buren is guilty of any dishonorable proceedings, but rather that he did not possess the requisite executive ability to conduct the business entrusted to him, and misplaced confidence in one or more of his subordinates, especially Mr. Myer, and hence the cause of the irregularities which have had so disastrous an effect on the American features of the Exposition, both morally and in respect to the articles contributed.

Sioux Indians Asking for Arms.

A letter from the Red Cloud Agency, dated June 20th, says the main object [illegible] induce the Indians to relinquish possession of vast tracts of unceded lands held by them in Nebraska and Wyoming, but it was not deemed advisable to present the subject, the temper of the Indians being unfavorable to a discussion of the matter, and therefore the Commission contented themselves with obtaining the removal of the agency from its present location on the North Platte, thirty miles below Fort Laramie, northward to White river. The Indians demanded eleven hundred stand of arms, of the best pattern, with plenty of ammunition. The Commission could only agree to ask the Great Father to issue ten guns to each of the eleven bands of Sioux represented in the Council. Red Cloud wanted a hundred white squaws sent out for his young men. Many white men had married Indian squaws, and afterwards left them and their children on the hands of the tribe to be provided for, which did not strike him as the proper thing.

July Gold Sales and Bond Purchases.

Secretary Richardson has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to give notice that during the month of July he will sell one million dollars gold on the first, second, fourth and fifth Thursdays each, and one and a half million dollars on the third Thursday, and that he will purchase half a million bonds on the third Wednesday of the month. In all he will sell five millions five hundred thousand dollars gold, and buy five hundred thousand dollars bonds.

The Treaty of Washington.

The President's proclamation has been prepared, to be issued on the 1st of July, announcing the going into effect on that day of articles from 18 to 25 inclusive of the treaty of Washington, necessary legislation having been adopted on the part of the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain, the Legislature of Canada and Prince Edward's Island on one side, and by the Congress of the United States on the other.

Loss by Consolidating the Tobacco Tax.

Last year, when the tobacco tax was consolidated at twenty cents, it was thought that the internal revenue receipts from this source for the fiscal year now closing would show a decrease of at least five or six millions as compared with former years, but instead of that amount the figures show that the decrease is only about $890,000.

SPORTING NEWS.

Grand International Regatta at Toronto—A Number of Prizes Carried off by Pittsburghers.

TORONTO, ONT., June 28.—The grand international regatta took place in Toronto Bay this afternoon. The weather was the most favorable. Hundreds of sail and row boats lined either side of the course. Barges were anchored at intervals, while steamers and tugs were passing up and down. About 8,000 persons witnessed the races.

The first race was a single scull, first class. There were seven entries. A good start was made, but Louther, of Pittsburgh, and Denmarst, of the same place, soon took the lead, making thirty-six strokes per minute. Louther won the race, making two miles in fifteen minutes and forty-eight seconds. McKee was half a boat length behind, and Nurse, of Toronto, half a boat length behind McKee. The first prize was $125, and the second $50.

The second race was with single sculls, second class. There were four contestants. Snyder, of Pittsburgh, won by three or four boat lengths, making two miles in fifteen minutes and thirty-one seconds, with thirty-four strokes to the minute; second, Means, of Pittsburgh.

The third race was double sculls, second class. Four clubs started. This race was won by the Dominion Club, of Toronto, Schooles and Muir being three lengths ahead, making two miles in fourteen minutes and thirty-eight seconds. The Columbia Club, Means and Gardiner, were second. The winners made thirty-eight strokes per minute. The first prize was two medals, valued at forty dollars each; the second, club pins, valued at twenty-five dollars each.

The fourth race was with four-oared boats, first class, four miles, $300 to the first, $150 to the second, and $50 to the third. Five clubs started. They passed the judges' boat after the first turn in the following order: McKee Club, of Pittsburgh, led about three lengths, making the first two miles in twelve minutes and forty-eight seconds; the New Dominion Club second; Howard Club, of Pittsburgh, third; Buffalo Rowing Club fourth, and the Hibernia Club, of Buffalo, some distance behind. The McKee Club, of Pittsburgh, won the race in twenty-six minutes and four seconds, four lengths ahead of the Buffalo Club, the Howard Club of Pittsburgh third, the New Dominion Club fourth, with the Hibernia Club of Buffalo last.

The fifth race was with four-oared boats, second class, four miles, four medals to the first, and four cups to the second. Only two clubs competed—the Erie Club of Buffalo and New Dominion of Toronto. It was won by the Buffalo Club in twenty-nine minutes and twenty seconds, about a quarter of a mile ahead.

The sixth race, for first-class double sculls, two miles, was won by the Columbia Club; time fifteen minutes and five seconds, beating the New Domion Club.

A skiff race and a tub race concluded the programme.

The Billiard Tournament.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The eighteenth game of the billiard tournament, played this afternoon by Cyrille Dion and Albert Garnier, was won by the former. Score—Dion, 300; Garnier, 208; time of game, 1 hour and 41 minutes.

In the six-handed match, J. Dion, Garnier and Daly were pitted against Deery, Ubassy and C. Dion, and defeated them by a total score of 327 to 213. The following is the aggregate of the runs of each player: J. Dion, 38; Garnier, 184; Daly, 95; Deery, 48; Ubassy, 85; C. Dion, 80. On Monday the games between Cyrille Dion and Daly will be played.

The defeat of Garnier by Cyrille Dion in the game this afternoon gives the New Yorkers a hope that their pet, Maurice Daly, may yet carry off the first prize. Daly has defeated Dion, Garnier conquered Daly, and now Dion has won a victory over Garnier. Each has lost one game, and with them now will be the struggle for the championship. Garnier seems to be regarded as having the honor of the West in his keeping. He has made the highest run—113. Daly is expected to bear New York to the front, while to Dion is awarded the task of maintaining the colors of Canada and France.

BEAUTY AND UTILITY.

A New Style of Mantels—The Wellman Grate, and Chilison Heater.

Many of our citizens, in the city proper, but more particularly in the suburban portions of the city, are erecting handsome and tasteful dwellings, which they will occupy as homes probably during the balance of their lives. They seek to have them exteriorly tasteful in style and ornament, and are lavish in the use of means to realize their wishes. But the interior of a dwelling is really of more importance than the exterior, as here the family spends the chief portion of life, and friends and visitors are received and entertained. To those who wish real comfort, and ornament as well, we commend the new style of mantels and Wellman grate, both of which we examined, a few days since.

These mantels are of slate, but bear the appearance of the finest marble. A process was discovered in England, a few years since, by which the finest colored marbles can be so perfectly imitated that the keenest observer cannot detect the difference. This discovery was imported; a portion of the process is a secret, and the variety of mantels on exhibition at 190 Liberty street is one of the results of the discovery. The various colored marbles of this country and Europe are imitated perfectly,—and in several mantels, a variety of marbles, will be found, in one mantle, the effect being very fine. Ebony, cherry, mahogany, and other woods, of the finer grain, are also imitated, thus affording opportunity for an endless variety of combination and design. A score or more of finely finished mantels, each unlike any other are constantly on exhibition. Thus, with the wonderful cheapness of price considered, there should not be the slightest difficulty in the way of every newly erected residence having an elaborate and tasteful suites of mantels. Our impression is, will be manufactured to order. [illegible] ter of curiosity, we commend our readers to visit the warerooms and examine [illegible] we refer to.

The same firm have also the Wellman grate, which is a decided improvement in point of appearance on the old-fashioned grate, but has several important merits beside. The fire-brick, at the back of the grate, is peculiarly grooved—the design being to secure the easy removal of ashes. The grate proper has fitted in between each of the bars a series of what may be termed slender bars, or knives, which manipulate from the front of the grate, by the ordinary form of grate lever. As this is moved to the right or left, the slender bars or knives referred to loosen and remove the ashes thoroughly, and yet create no dust. A front or reflector is made of nickel or porcelain, and gives the grate an ornamental appearance. When this grate is closed for use, the bars fit very closely, thus preventing the loss of coal. It compares in price with the ordinary grate, and its advantages are, economy in fuel, great radiating capacity, ease of management, perfect combustion, beauty, and its prevention of dust or ashes from getting into the room when the fire-place is cleansed. The saving in carpets and furniture in a single year will pay for the grate.

Messrs. Smith & Co. have also a heater which has the merit of cleanliness, economy of fuel, but particularly of great radiating capacity. It is called Chilison's Cone Furnace. Its features are: A cluster of hollow cones, or tapering radiators, stand directly over the fire pot, up into which the hot smoke and gases are compressed, and their heat made to impinge against and radiate from the entire conical surface. In addition to this immense heating power, the rays of light and heat from the fire pot are reflected up and among the cones [illegible] apex of each of them; not unlike those of the sun-glass when brought to a focus. The great necessity, in securing heat, at little expense, is to secure the proper radiating surface. This is accomplished in this heater. Mr. Arnold has charge of the setting up of these furnaces.

Mr. Smith, the head of the firm, is a young gentleman of courteous, affable manner, and it will afford him pleasure to point out to visitors the merits of the articles described in brief above. They are all of a staple character, needed in every house. It is good philosophy when building, inasmuch as mantels, grates and heaters must be provided, to get the most tasteful and the best. This being the case we earnestly commend our friends to call at 190 Liberty street, and verify the correctness of our suggestion.

THREATENING HIS WIFE.

An Arrest Made This Morning.

This morning about one o'clock, officer Keefer arrested on Diamond alley a man named John Doran, who was intoxicated, and who threatened to disembowel his wife. John had come home late intoxicated, and being angry at his wife, he at once commenced an onslaught upon her and threatened to take her life, which he undoubtedly would have done had not the officer arrested him. He threatened the officer, but he succeeded in bringing him to the Central station, from whence he will be heard this morning.

PERSONAL.

President Grant and General Babcock dined at the Union Depot Hotel yesterday. The President is on his way to Covington, Ky., to visit his father, who is lying very ill.

Mr. J. M. Logan has been elected Superintendent of the Springfield schools to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. W. R. Ford. Mr. Logan, for the past seven years has been principal of the Fourth ward schools, in which position he has been quite successful.

J. S. Merrill has been promoted to an Inspectorship by the Pullman Palace Car Company, and orders have been issued accordingly. Mr. Merrill is well and favorably known in this city and his promotion will be heard of with satisfaction by his many friends, who know him to be in every way worthy.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

OFFICER LOVE, of Steubenville, yesterday brought James Jones to the city on a charge of robbing Mrs. Pollit in this city last winter. In addition to that he will be held for stealing from the cars of the P. C. & St. L. R. R.

MIKE MURPHY, one of the Oyler gang, was arrested on Saturday for attempting to pick the pocket of a man named Abraham Myers, in front of McIlwaine's auction room on Smithfield street. In default of $1,000 bail he was committed to jail for trial.

JAMES THOMAS had a hearing on Saturday afternoon before Mayor Blackmore on a charge of felonious assault and battery in cutting Richard Harris on the back of the neck with a knife, and in default of $2,000 bail was committed to jail for trial.

Spoiling for a Fight.

"Some people have a mania for seeing their names in print. A Johnstown man registers his name daily at one of the hotels, and every day for nearly a year past it has regularly appeared among the arrivals."

The gentleman alluded to by the Pittsburgh paper from which the above is clipped, pays his hotel bill regularly, and attends strictly to his own business. His occupation requires him to go to Pittsburgh and return every day, and if he should happen to meet the individual who accuses him of a mania of the kind, he would decorate his nose and eyes in such a manner as would enable local reporters of neighboring journals to get up an item entitled "Severely Pummeled," in which their brother scribe would be the victim.—Johnstown Tribune.

Prompt Payment of County Taxes Saves Five Per Cent.

Tax-payers having to settle with County Treasurer Kilgore would do well to remember that they can save themselves five per cent. by striking a balance and settling at his office before the 1st of August. On and after that date the five per cent. additional will go on, so that it is to the interest of citizens to call at the Court House before that time and satisfy the demands entered against their names upon the books.

THE movement for furnishing music in the Park, for the enjoyment of the children is sensible and popular. But why not extend the affair, and give the poor children of our city healthful excursions during the summer months?

WILL not the Eastern press please take notice that the Constitutional Convention has rescinded its resolution of adjournment? Long editorials, disapprobating the summer adjournment, are rather heavy reading, in view of the facts.

THE Hon. A. O. Zabriskie, Chancellor of New Jersey, died in San Francisco Saturday morning. The deceased was a gentleman of high qualities, of pure character, and laborious life. He was appointed Chancellor about five years ago. His health has been unsettled for several years, but his death was sudden and unexpected.

THE Post seems to think that our allusions to virtuous gentlemen of Democratic faith, who voted for the back pay steal, and took the money, are of the dodging order. We aimed to be explicit. If we were not, we will just say that we know of but one Democrat who did not take the back pay. If the Post is in a fiery humor, will it please expose the rascals, without dodging? They are great scamps.

O SHAH! England and its toadies are now reported as tired of the stupid Persian monarch, and he is equally tired of them. He doesn't want any more military reviews or squadron displays,—so they say, that he may view the manufactories. If these do not suit him, he is to be treated to addresses of welcome,—which, it is presumed, will please him, or drive him to Paris.

HIRAM POWERS, the American artist and sculptor of the "Greek Slave," died at Florence, Italy, Friday. He had been suffering from consumption for a long time, and his death was not unexpected. As an artist he was earnestly devoted to his work, and achieved, years since, an international reputation. Despite his long residence abroad, he always retained a strong love of country, and was at all times thoroughly American. His studio was a place of resort for Americans.

TICHBORNE is on trial for perjury in England, and if the testimony thus far adduced is not very clearly rebutted, it must go against the claimant. There is a vast amount of perjury brought to bear, or the man claiming the title and estates is a presumptuous swindler. The young Roger Tichborne, before his disappearance, had attained manhood, and was in one of the regiments of the Queen, as an officer. He here met many other officers, and was noted for certain peculiar habits. The claimant fails to recognize these old friends, or to remember the peculiarities that belonged to the young Roger. Thus far the case is against him.

IT is regarded as significant, that simultaneous with the intelligence of the capture of Khiva, Russia has launched an iron-clad war vessel on the Black Sea, and the Czar has visited Vienna. The first of these occurrences is probably the significant one, as it foreshadows the creation of a fleet of iron-clads on the Black Sea. While the Czar, no doubt, improved his visit by cultivating friendly relations with Francis Joseph, he may not depend so much on this in his future operations, as on his fleet and army. It is significant, above all, we think, that he treated the Shah of Persia with great coolness, and it is more likely that his next aggressive move will be against that power, than that it will against Turkey.

NEW YORK is very justly agitated over the discovery that Italian children are imported to that city, for the purpose of using them as beggars or in some form of crime. This in itself is bad enough, but the treatment bestowed on these children is revolting in the extreme. One of the dens in which they are kept was visited a short time since by the police at night, and the children were found in a room without ventilation, in troubled sleep, and several of them bore evidence of having been cruelly beaten. There should be a law for the swift and severe punishment of the wretches guilty of thus abusing children of tender years. The movement against them in New York, it is said, has caused the persons who control these children to plan a migration west. We hope, if they come to this city, that prompt measures will be taken for their arrest.

WHEN will the Democracy get settled, upon some new or old line of policy? They are aware that soon arrangements must be made to enter into a new political canvass, but how to prepare for it is the puzzle. There are those who think the bargain with the Liberals ended with the Presidential canvass, and others who imagine the partnership to be still in existence. Some favor a return to the old habits and ideas of the Democracy, and others [illegible] striving to get up a new departure. [illegible] party [illegible] all comes the suggestion that a [illegible] and policy, [illegible]dfully uncertain as to its faith [illegible] better make short work of it by disbanding altogether. It is very amusing, when we think of the past record and present uncertainties of the Democratic party, to see with what vim the journals of that faith denounce and belabor the Republicans. One not versed in their history might suppose that only pure thoughts, and elevated ideas of political economy ever possessed their virtuous minds. The vigor with which they demand power in order that it may be used for the welfare of the country, sounds strange, in view of the slavery abominations, so long apologized for or absolutely defended, or the rebellion, so full of bad faith and outrageous barbarism on the part of the South, but which was treated with respectful tenderness by Democratic journals. Worst of all, the assassination of Lincoln, glossed over by certain of that virtuous press. Now, however, in sanctified purity, we are treated to effusions, so full of sentimental regard for the well-being of the country, that we are left to imagine that the lion, by some strange process, has been transmogrified into a lamb. All this, when done in a general, unspecific way, we do not particularly object to. But we are rather discouraged when the Post, with last Tuesday's performances of its beautiful convention so freshly in mind, [illegible] of the Democracy with so much [illegible] and confidence, and denounce [illegible]icals" with so much vindictive [illegible] suggest that the Post first [illegible] of its own eyes, and if [illegible] if it shall happen to [illegible]blican eyes. Bury [illegible]tion.

[illegible] vice rules [illegible] accept- [illegible] as prepared by the Civil Service Commission and promulgated by the Government, require that all recommendations concerning any nomination or appointment to office, in the Civil Service shall be in writing, setting forth the character and qualifications of the person recommended, and signed by the individual making the recommendation. It is also provided that no application shall be entertained for the removal of any person from office for the mere purpose of making a place for another. Neither the members of the Civil Service Commission nor of the Board of Examiners are to take any part in recommending appointment to or removal from office, but are to confine their action strictly to their respective functions under the rules. Examinations of candidates for appointment are to be held in anticipation of vacancies, as well as to fill vacancies, in order that no delay or interruption may be caused in the public service; and the territorial distribution of appointments, as well as the convenience of applicants, is provided for by establishing local Civil Service districts, the whole Union be divided into five, containing each about an equal number of population. At one or two metropolitan centres in each of these districts, examinations are to be conducted by an examining board appointed for the district, and each district is to be considered as a sphere of competition for all applicants residing within its limits. A chief examiner is to be designated by the President, whose duty it will be, under the supervision of the Civil Service Commission, to arrange the mode of examinations and the registering of the results. The members of the various local boards are to be selected by the executive, and, so far as practicable, from suitable officers of the United States. In all examinations a minimum grade of seventy-five per cent. will entitle a candidate to be entered in the records as a person eligible for appointment, and to stand so recorded for eighteen months, after which time he will have to be examined anew in order to remain upon the record.

SOME of our cotemporaries are discussing the reasons for the decline in Legislative virtue. One puts it on the ground that competent men cannot afford to lose the time to go to the Legislature, and that they are afraid of newspaper abuse. Another sees in special legislation the source of the evil. Another finds a remedy for the evil in the increase of members provided by the Constitutional Convention. Possibly fewness of members may have something to do with the corruptibility of Legislatures—but not so much as is imagined. The several reasons above given may have their modicum of truthfulness, but we imagine that the chief reason for the trouble complained of is just this: In the first place, the majority of people take little or no interest in making nominations, and what interest they do manifest is rather in the line of choice between those who seek the nomination than in the selection of a perfectly good man and urging [illegible] on him. We do not doubt [illegible] who would willingly serve in the Legislature, but they are unwilling to announce themselves as candidates, and then go through the turmoil and work, the beer-drinking and petty meanness so often necessary to gain a nomination. Second,—party managers,—and this is true of all parties,—usually select, on a basis of their own, the to them most available or valuable candidates, as the case may be, and "put them through," by means of the party machinery. The motives that govern in such selections are various. In some cases a worker is to be rewarded; in others, an influence is to be conciliated; in still other cases, availability is thought of. No single rule or consideration will apply, probably, to two cases. Thus the nominations are made. As a rule, whether the men who are aided by the party managers be in themselves good or bad, they are committed to aid their friends and helpers, as far as possible. Hence, these men are controlled. We do not presume newspaper abuse, or loss of time, or even special legislation has so much to do with the kind of men that get elected.—they would still go, if all these things were abolished. But if special legislation is prohibited, they will not be able to do much harm.

LABOR IN ENGLAND.

The present indications are that the labor war in England will be more vindictive than it has been, thus far, in any other country. It has developed very slowly, till within six or eight years, but now, every form of labor that is paid for in the form of wages—from the hinds in the agricultural counties to the employees in Her Majesty's civil service, has its unions and its demands. Joseph Arch is the leader among the agricultural and mining laborers, and he has succeded in forming combinations in all parts of the kingdom. At the first, Parliament was disposed to legislate in behalf of the workingmen, and did legalize the trade unions, but made it a criminal offense to persecute or intimidate non-unionists. England's laborers, in the mines and on the farms, are very largely ignorant, and the result of the union agitation has been excesses, which have led to severe repressive legislation. The Masters' and Servants' Act was passed two years ago, and brought into full play at the trial of the gas stokers. The trouble grew out of the discharge of one of their number, whereupon all quit work without giving the notice agreed upon, and London was left in darkness. Twenty-five of the stokers were arrested, convicted, and sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

In this the stokers were evidently both morally and legally at fault. So far, the tide of feeling was against them. But the severity of their punishment, particularly in view of the fact that they were criminally sentenced for merely breaking a civil contract, turned the tide of sympathy, and the Government was compelled to set them at liberty. Thus the first victory was gained by the Unionists. This was followed by what is termed the Chipping-Norton case, in which some agricultural laborers struck while others refused to do so. The wives of the strikers then made an onslaught against the non-strikers, who had sixteen of them arraigned before the magistrates for their violence, and sentenced to a month's imprisonment. At once the public indignation became universal. Many of these women had small babes, and all of them families, dependent on their care. The Government, alarmed, stopped the proceedings, but the mischief was done.

The last case of conflict was in Earl Fitzwilliam's mines, in Yorkshire,—the "Low Stubbin colliery." The men formed a Union, but one of their number refused to join it. The others then demanded his discharge, which was refused, and the men then stopped work. The mines were closed, and finally the men, driven by want, sent an apology to the Earl, and asked to be permitted to return to work. They were deliberately informed that the mines would be opened at the pleasure of the owner, and were thus left starving.

Out of these circumstances has arisen an intense agitation. In the first instance the authorities were evidently in the right. But the unnecessary severity practiced put them in the wrong, and turned the tide of sympathy in favor of the strikers. The repeal of the masters' and servants' act is now demanded, and will probably be secured. The demand for increased compensation and privileges will follow, and will be resisted with great difficulty. An advance must be conceded, as the Union spirit so hostile to the employing classes, is, too prevalent and intense to be put down or soothed in any manner. Much anxiety is felt because of the possible influence of these agitations on social order in the kingdom. With us there are reasons for congratulation in these agitations. Provided they do not subvert society, they will result in labor being properly compensated, which will put the manufacturers in this country on a competing basis with those of England. Fair remuneration for labor has been the policy of this country. The artificial distinctions which exist in England have not grown up here. [illegible] advantage over us in the past. The [illegible] remuneration, and hard lot of the majority of those who serve for wages in England has [illegible] in this country; and while a more [illegible] method of remedying the evil might be desired, severe measures are laudable, if necessary.

HON. EDWARDS PIERREPONT, counsel to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, has given an opinion to the effect that bonds could not be issued, and money required by the company must be borrowed by pledging the property.

THE Royal Academy diploma of Sir Joshua Reynolds—then Mr. Joshua Reynolds—was sold in London last week for £6. It is dated the 15th December, 1793 and signed by George the Third.

IT is reported that a master sailmaker of the Charlestown, Mass., Navy Yard is engaged in repairing the identical flag alluded to in the song of the "Star Spangled Banner." It waved over Fort McHenry in 1814.

THE census report credits Kentucky with the production of 140,000 gallons of the delicious syrup known as maple molasses. If any one has a curiosity to know how many billions of packages of refined sugar she produces, let him count her pretty girls.—Courier Journal.

A CURIOUS place for a bird's nest is that chosen by two songsters that have found a dwelling-palace on the Derby (Connecticut) Railroad in the angle formed by the cap of one of the trestles of a bridge and the stringer upon which the rail rests. Ten trains pass daily over the bridge.

THE Nashville papers estimate that if $5,000 had been spent last April in improving the sanitary condition of that city, $1,000,000 would have been saved to the commerce and many valuable lives preserved. If it was any use we would like to refer that fact for consideration to our authorities.

THE new Commissioners of Parks of New York City have unanimously re-elected Colonel Henry G. Stebbins President. The Department will now be thoroughly organized, and the necessary details for efficient work be made without delay. The Board appropriated ten thousand dollars for fireworks in the Parks on the 4th of July.

THREE hundred tin and galvanized-iron workers of Chicago protest against the system of letting the labor of convicts in the Illinois Penitentiary to contractors. They and their employers find themselves hurt by the competition of a firm who have employed one hundred of the convicts. They demand that the contract system be abolished, and the products of their labor be sold at auction to the highest bidder.

DAVID WEBB, passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Columbus, Ohio, and Mr. Houseman, last Friday night purchased a large quantity of fire works, for the Fourth of July, and while taking them into the country in a hack a lighted cigar fell into the package, exploding the whole lot, blowing the carriage top off and throwing Webb into a neighboring ditch. He was so badly burned that he died on Saturday.

IMMIGRATION to Brazil has succeeded in a single instance, that of German colonization of the southernmost province of the empire, where the climate is temperate enough to be propitious. In the northern provinces immigrants will be killed by the climate sooner or later on the coast, and if they go far inland to a better climate they find themselves in a wilderness, without roads, and without a market for their produce.

THE Philadelphia North American, referring to the exportation of American iron to England, says the battle of American industry has been a long one in this respect, dating from 1750 to 1873. This is the first great staple industry that begins to export to the British market, and it is the one, of all others, that England was most desirous of crushing. The same paper makes the prediction that, within ten years, American iron will become one of the regular and staple exports of the United States, and in large quantities.

THE coolie trade with America is manifestly exciting the cupidity of ship-owners. A Pacific Mail steamer, on the average, brings 1,200 Chinese. At $45 per head, this represents an aggregate of $54,000. As the staple food is rice, the profits are highly remunerative. Huddled together in steerage births, the Chinese take up little space and require a minimum of attention, except that which is directed toward keeping the ship safe. One ordinary state-room of the Pacific Mail steamers occupies the space that eighteen Chinese berths do, and while the single person who usually occupies the state-room pays $300 for the voyage, and consumes half of it in food, the eighteen Celestials pay $810, and probably do not cost as much in food as the cabin passenger.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE Republicans of Union county have renominated Hon. C. S. Wolfe as their candidate for Assembly. J. E. Herr, Esq., is recommended on behalf of that county for Senator.

THE friends of Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, are pressing him for the vacant Chief Justiceship, and it is said that he is among the half-dozen whose fitness the President is seriously considering.

THE St. Paul Press seems inclined to think that Governor Austin will be nominated for re-election in Minnesota, notwithstanding he has refused to run again, on the ground that he can not afford to hold the office longer.

HERE is good news for the women suffrage people. The Special Committee of the New Hampshire House, appointed to consider the subject of allowing women to vote in school districts, has reported in favor of granting the privilege.

THE following is the Republican ticket in Mercer county:—Assembly, J. W. Barker, Sandy Lake; Treasurer, F. M. Powell, West Middlesex; Commissioner, Andrew Robinson, Findley; Poor Director, John Gamble, Delaware; Jury Commissioner, Jerome A. Leech, Sugar Grove; Auditor, J. G. Perry, Findley.

THE Lawrence, Kan., Tribune remarks that "the independence of the Republican press is an encouraging sign of the times. We do not remember to have ever read so many free, bold and unchallenged criticisms on party, party action and party nominations as fill the Republican press since the adjournment of the last Congress."

A WASHINGTON special of The Boston Journal says: "A gentleman who has seen the President states that the names reserved for consideration, from which will be made the appointment of Chief Justice, are B. R. Curtis, E. Rockwood Hoar, Wm. M. Evarts, George H. Williams, Attorney General, and Senator Howe of Wisconsin.

THE Republicans of Bedford county have nominated as follows: Associate Judge, Edmund F. Garlinger; District Attorney, William C. Smith; County Treasurer, William Masters; County Commissioner, John Eichelberger; Jury Commissioner, David R. Smith; Poor Director, Joseph Snowden; Auditor, John C. Ickes.

THE Democrats of Forest county met in Convention at Tionesta on Tuesday last, and placed the following ticket in the field: Assembly, Dr. Winans; County Commissioner, S. C. Sloan; County Auditor, James Glilllan; Jury Commissioner, James Flynn; Coroner, J. E. Blaide. M. D. I. C. Siggins was elected chairman of the County Committee.

How impossible it is to please everybody is again shown by the Virginia complaints that Grant's appointees there include so many ex-confederates, and also so few colored citizens. In Louisiana the complaints are of the opposite kind. Even in Virginia the Democratic soul is in agony because of Republican and colored officials. What is Mr. President to do?

WE are requested to announce, by the delegates to the State Convention, that the following persons have been appointed conferees for both the Senatorial and Representative districts: Capt. Geo. W. Hamilton, of Beaver; J. H. Christy, Esq., of Raccoon township; and Capt. C. K. Chamberlain, of New Brighton. The time and place for holding the Conferences will be announced hereafter.—Beaver Radical.

THE Republicans of Stark county, Ohio, have put the following ticket in nomination: For Representative, William M. Johnston, Benjamin F. Cori; for Treasurer, Fred Hookway; for Auditor, Ed. A. Lee; for Recorder, Marcus E. Wilcox; for Sheriff, Henry C. March; for Prosecuting Attorney, Joseph J. Parker; for Commissioner, Jacob M. Truby; for County Surveyor, Richard E. Wilson; for Infirmary Director, John H. Brenner; for Coroner, Daniel Dewalt.

THE New York Tribune has a letter from Boston on the political situation in Massachusetts, closing as follows: "The present prospect is that General Butler will gain his nomination through the aid of the administration and the use of party machinery, to which he will be further helped by the dissatisfaction with Governor Washburne's course on the liquor legislation of the State. The same influences will do much to insure his election, and a large accession of votes from the Democratic party will also greatly contribute to this end."

PERSONAL.

A DISPATCH from San Francisco says Chancellor Zabriskie, of New Jersey, died in that city on Saturday morning.

RHODE ISLAND proposes to enclose Roger Williams' Park with a high fence. This leaves just enough of the State outside for a carriage drive.

YOUNG ladies contemplating an Eastern tour should provide themselves with peanut stands. The Shah married the reigning belle of his harem when she was a peanut girl, and a Yankee peanut girl could of course do better.

JEFF. DAVIS was sixty-five years old on the 3d inst. How keenly that anniversary must have made him realize the truth of A. Ward's Philosophical remark that it would have been at least fifty cents in his pocket if he had never been born?

DR. HOLLAND pines over the fact that the playful propensities of the race are dying out. The Doctor does his best to counteract it. When he published "The Marble Prophecy" and called it a "poem," he was only playing a joke upon the public.

THE New York Star tells what in that city now-a-days makes an actress one of the most accomplished in the profession. It says: "Miss Agnes Ethel is one of the most accomplished ladies in her profession. Her wardrobe is valued at $18,000."

SAYS an exchange: "If young Walworth is convicted, there will not be a dry eye in Saratoga county." This ought to be sufficient to acquit him. There are few jurymen callous enough to confront the spectacle of Saratoga county in tears; although, in an agricultural point of view, it isn't so bad a spring freshet.

WHETHER Plymouth Church can afford this mysterious silence; whether Mr. Beecher can afford it, time will show. Perhaps the church and Mr. Beecher can afford it; but the world will think that, if Mr. Brown can, he is very far from being an innocent man. Dropping the matter here, Mr. Bowen is in fact a self-confessed libeller, and Mr. Beecher is innocent of all the charges brought against him. Plymouth Church believes in her pastor, but dares not drive from her circle the man who maligned him. It is a singular state of things, and the question is again pertinent and prominent, has Mr. Bowen nothing to say?

Observations on Life.

We have seen many a favorite son or daughter hastening to the grave under some undermining chronic disease. It may be Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, or some other malady of less fatal tendency. What are you doing for it we would ask? "Nothing," perhaps would be the answer! Why, who ever heard of such logic as that? Do nothing and expect the disease to get well! "Oh, well, some one told us it was Consumption, and Consumption could not be cured." That fatal belief has allowed thousands to pass to untimely graves. We do not say they were killed, they may not have been deceived, but there was a time in the case when it was curable. Did you never hear of DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE—of its wonderful powers in renewing the life and restoring the lungs? Have you not read of many who have been cured by it after all hope on life had been abandoned? Has not DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, like a sign-board at the cross roads, many a time pointed you the way to a return to health and renewed life? Think of it when you are sick. Read the Doctor's treatise on Chronic Diseases, which can be had free at his medical office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, or sent to any address on application.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June [illegible], 1873.

The closing day of the week is generally a dull day in financial circles, and with easy market it was particularly monotonous to-day. Borrowers seemed to want but little money, and what they did want was easily obtained on good paper at rates a shade lower than have heretofore ruled, but not enough to make it worthy of special notice.

In real estate circles there was unusual activity, and a number of large sales took place—the property going off rapidly and at good prices. This feature of business was never more prominent than now, and from the announcements made elsewhere in our columns it is evident that there will be activity for some time to come.

The New York bank statement for the week is as follows:

Loans, increase	$[illegible]
Specie, increase	[illegible]
Legal tenders, increase	2,41[illegible]
Deposits, increase	3,648,300

George B. Hill & Co., Bankers, No. 58 Fourth avenue, furnish the following quotations of Bonds and Stocks from the latest advices by telegraph:

Messrs. Robinson Bros., bankers, 78 Fourth avenue, furnish the following quotations of active stock on the Philadelphia Stock Board to-day:

Penna. Central	54⅜
Reading	57⅜
United Cos. of N. J.	122
Oil Creek	29
Lehigh Valley	60⅜
Philadelphia & Erie	24
Penna. Receipts	54
Pittsburgh 5s	74
Allegheny Valley 7-30	95⅜
Central Transportation	48

In Philadelphia the rates have lowered, and lenders will accept 5 to 6 ₩ cent call loans and 6 to 8 on prime commercial paper. There is still some feeling in the stock market, but the pressure is not great and with available funds for borrowers, the market rules steady and firm.

The latest advices from Baltimore report the stock market for local stocks especially as buoyant, money plenty, rates lower, and dullness in other lines.

In Cincinnati there is no essential change in the money market, the demands for discounts being good, and the banks are able to supply it at the usual rates, 8@9 ₩ cent. Outside of bank money is in ample supply, and prime mercantile paper is placed readily at 9 ₩ cent.

In Chicago finances continue quiet and money is abundant. Money is being offered in the open market on good collaterals at 8 per cent. At the banks, however, there is still a pretty active demand, and the usual rates of discount are maintained.

We note sales of Allegheny Valley 7-30 railroad bonds at 95⅜ and broker's commission. $15 per share is offered for Columbia oil stock. Pittsburgh 5s sold at 74. There is considerable inquiry for bank and insurance stock.

NEW YORK, June 28, 1873.

Money was easy at 3 to 4 on call. Exchange was dull; 109⅜@110¼ for prime bankers' sixty days' sterling and 110⅜ for sight. Gold was weaker, and declined from 115⅜ to 115¼, but rallied to 115⅜@115⅜ at the close. The rates paid for carrying were 2, 1⅛@1⅜. Clearings $34,2[illegible],000. The Assistant Treasurer paid out to-day $2,582,000 on account of interest. Customs receipts $250,000. Governments were firm at the close, with few offerings. The most active stocks to-day were Lake Shore, Union Pacific, Pacific Mail, and Western Union Telegraph. At the close the general market was weak. Hannibal & St. Joseph was [illegible] up from 35⅜ to 37⅜, and closed steady at the [illegible] point. Lake Shore opened at [illegible] and advanced to 93⅜, closing at 93⅜. PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY June 28, 1873.

Trade in general merchandise continues, as it always is at this particular time, very quiet, and no immediate improvement can reasonably be expected. The demand for nearly all the leading commodities is confined entirely to supplying immediate wants; there is an entire absence of anything like speculation, and there is a gradual shrinking in values. The grain trade has been exceedingly unsatisfactory for some weeks past: the market has been overstocked and dealers have been forced, in many instances, to sell at a [illegible], and even at present rates, many of them [illegible] be unable to realize cost. Flour is also dull [and d]rooping, while Sugars are lower than they [have] been for many years. The provisions market has also had the props knocked from under it [illegible]. In a word, there is a gradual and [general] shrinking going on, and no material improvement need be looked for as long as this [contin]ues, as people will naturally hold back [until there] is some evidence that the bottom has [bee]n reached.

[illegible] price—The market continues quiet, and medium unchanged: 8@12 for common to [illegible] BE... and 15@17 for prime to choice. ...bus, as sales in a jobbing way at $2.75@3.25 ₩ ... PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, SATURDAY, June 28, 1873.

The following is a statement of the receipts of stock during the week, and in order to afford a comparison, we append those of the week preceding also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle.	569	624 cars.
Hogs.	200	125 "
Sheep.	71	65 "
Horses.	22	30 "
Mules.	4	[illegible] "

CATTLE.

The market has been moderately active this week, but further concessions had to be made, and heavy cattle sold down lower than at any time this year. Common cattle were also lower, but the decline in the former was more marked than in the latter, and sellers generally lost money. Trade has been unsatisfactory, particularly for the selling interest, for several weeks past, and in consequence of the depreciation, sellers couldn't help losing money, and some of them, especially those who operate largely, a good deal of it. As will be seen, the arrivals were 64 cars short of last week, but dealers reported that the deficiency was mostly of through consignments, that there was an increased number of cattle actually on sale; there was perhaps an average demand for shipment to the regular eastern markets, but there was less inquiry from the interior, the number of transient buyers being comparatively light, and this, of course, was not without its effect in depressing the market.

As stated in our last report, the inquiry, as a rule, was mainly for light weights, of good quality, hence, heavy weights were at a discount, and this explains what we have already stated, that the depreciation in the latter was greater than in the former. There was one car of choice steers sold at 6⅜ cents, car weights, equal to about 6¼, yard weights, and with this exception there was nothing sold, that we could hear of, above 6c. Quotations may be fairly given as follows: Extra 6⅜@6⅜. Prime, 5⅜@6. Good, 5⅜@5⅜. Fair, 5@5⅜. There were several good droves sold at from 5.60@5.80, and we presume that the bulk of the sales were within the range of 5⅜@5⅜; 6c is now regarded as a top price, showing a decline of 50@75c ₩ cwt within the past few weeks, and it requires something fancy to bring 6⅜. Stock cattle continue very dull, and may be quoted at 3⅜@4⅜ for common to prime. Bulls also dull, ranging from 3@4c. Texas and Cherokee stock sold all the way 4 to 5.30, according to quality, and there was a full supply this week. Grassers were also in good supply and had to be sold low, say from 3⅜@4⅜, and it is expected that the market will be glutted with this kind of stock for some time to come, as it nearly always is at this season of the year—hence, the prospects for better [prices] here soon are not very favorable. The [eastern] markets, particularly New York, continue unsatisfactory, certainly no better than ours, and we believe that recently the further east the seller goes, the more he loses. To illustrate, we will state a case in point: last week there was a drove here for which 6c was bid [and] refused; the owner disgusted with the price offered here, gathered his duds and ordered stock on to New York, where he succeeded in working them off at equal to 5⅜c ₩ lb, or ⅜ of [a cent] ₩ lb less than he was bid here. There are, as a matter of course, exceptions to all [rules, but] as a rule, the nearer home the western [man] sells his stock the better.

SHEEP.

Arrivals, as will be seen, were slightly in excess of those of last week, but, as a general thing, considerably under in point of quality; the bulk of the offerings consisted of common to medium, while of strictly prime the supply, we were informed, was unusually light; consequently, while the former declined fully 25c ₩ cwt, the latter brought about last week's prices, not because there was an increase in the demand, but in consequence of the very limited supply. Of the 71 cars on sale this week, about [illegible] cars were shipped to New York, some three [or four] cars of stockers were taken for the country, [and] for the balance, some [illegible] cars were sent [to] Philadelphia—there were but two or three [left] to Pittsburgh in first hands. Quotations may [be] stated as follows: Extra 100 lb wethers, [illegible] 4⅜@5; 80@85 lbs., 4@4⅜; [illegible] 90@95 [illegible] can report sales of some 70@75 [illegible] 3⅜@3⅜ [illegible] prices ranging from 4 to 6. Stock sheep at [illegible]. The supply of Lambs [illegible] weighing 80 to 90 lbs. [illegible] and they were [illegible] the largest of the season [illegible] may be quoted common in point of quality [illegible] sale of one [illegible] per head up to 6⅜c per lb [illegible] sale of one lot prime 60 lbs., from Kentucky, at 6⅜ and the [illegible] was another sold at 6⅜.

HOGS.

The hog market has been a little slow all week and with an increased supply and continued depreciation in the product, together with the hot weather, prices have ruled weak, especially for Philadelphia hogs; nice light York hogs were in demand and the supply of this particular kind was comparatively small; the former may be quoted at 5.05@5.10, and the latter at 4.90@[illegible]. Heavy coarse hogs not much sought after and cannot fairly be quoted above 4⅜.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 28, 1873.

The Crude market was a shade firmer to-day under the influence of an active demand, but there is no such improvement as yet in prices. Pittsburgh, it is evident from the continued large receipts, has been buying largely all along, and we presume that Cleveland, Philadelphia, New York and other consuming points have been doing likewise; but in the face of this there has, until within the past couple of days, been a steady shrinkage in prices until they have dropped down lower than they have been for several months. It is evident that the production is large, some report it increasing still, and there is no longer any doubt upon this point, that the supply is considerably in excess of the demand, that there is more being produced than is being consumed. Sales were reported to-day at $2.62⅜ ₩ brl at Parker, equal to about 5⅜c per gallon delivered here.

Refined is also weak and lower, but there has been considerable activity; exporters, it is understood, have been and are still buying largely, the unusually low prices, doubtless, having stimulated the demand. Quotations may be given at 18⅜@18⅜ for July, August or September delivery. We have no quotation for Pittsburgh delivery, but it is usually calculated at 3⅜c per gallon, which it costs delivered in Philadelphia. There is little or no inquiry from the west, but it is probable that western orders will commence to come in within the next month or two.

The supply of oil barrels continues light, scarcely equal to the demand, and prices are firm but unchanged. We continue to quote at $2.15 for countries, and $2.25 for city make.

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK.—We clip the following from the Iron Age: American Pig.—The market for American iron remains in just the same position as noticed for several weeks past. The companies generally ask $50 for No. 1 iron delivered at Hoboken, while outside parties are offering lots at decidedly lower figures. The demand for consumption continues very light, most of the larger manufacturers running on short time, and all limiting their purchases to the smallest possible quantity, not caring to lay in any supply in the face of the present unsettled condition of Scotch iron, and the exceeding dull demand for their products. The transaction since our last have been small, and we only hear of 75 tons Bushong No. 1 at $45, and 100 tons do on private terms. This brand, however, is generally held at $47. We quote: No. 1, $48@50; No. 2, $43@45; and Gray Forge, $38@40.

Scotch Pig—The steamship companies are still bringing iron here as ballast and pressing it on the market, they not appearing disposed to store it in the present dull condition of the trade. This fact tends to keep the market unsettled, and but little improvement is looked for until the consumptive demand shall have become better. At present consumers are afraid to lay in any considerable supply, not knowing but prices may go even lower. Considerable has been sold the past week at very low figures, but mostly taken by speculators. To go into the market to buy, stock could not be obtained at as low a figure as it has been sold for. We note sales of 300 or 400 tons Eglinton at $43@44, 200 tons Eglinton at $42, 400 tons Glengarnock at $44@45, 100 tons Glengarnock at $45.50, 300 tons Glengarnock at $43.50@44. 150 tons Glengarnock at a private price, 200 tons Carnbroe at $42, and 200 tons Monkland on private terms. We quote at the close, Glengarnock at $44@55, and Eglinton at $42@43.

PHILADELPHIA.—Pig iron remains very dull, and prices have a downward tendency. Sales of No. 1 foundry at $47; No 2 at $45@46, and white and mottled at $32. Bar iron will not bring over 4c ₩ lb. Nails sell slowly at $5 ₩ keg.

Wool Markets.

PHILADEDPHIA.—New wools are arriving freely, and are purchased by manufacturers about as fast as offered, at the following quotations. Under the steady demand prices seem to have reached bottom, and are now quite firm. We quote Pennsylvania and Ohio new wool—Full blood fleece, 50; three quarter blood fleece, 50; ⅜ blood fleece, 50; common and ¼ blood fleece, 45@47; common fleece, 40; tub washed, 50@51; unwashed, 31@34. New York and Michigan—Full blood fleece, 48; half blood fleece, 50; common and ⅜ blood, 45; common fleece, 40. Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa—⅜ blood Saxony fleece, 45@48; ⅜ blood fleece, 48@50; common and quarter blood, 45; common fleece, 40c. Domestic Pulled, City merino, 43.—Gazette.

BOSTON.—There is a good demand from manufacturers, but sales are restricted on account of the very small stock of fleeces on the market. New clips come forward slowly from the West, as there is no margin for shipments to Eastern markets at the prices asked. Spring California has been in demand, with large sales; and for combing fleece and super and X pulled the demand is good. The transactions include 500,000 lbs Spring California at 2[illegible]@35c; 50,000 lbs Fall do at 18@22c; 70,000 lbs Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces at 47⅜@57⅜c, the latter price for Picklock; 7,000 lbs Wisconsin at 4[illegible]@47⅜; 85,000 lbs Western and Kentucky unwashed combing at 40@45c; 10,000 lbs delaine fleece [illegible] 54c; 50,000 lbs unwashed and unmerchantable fleeces at 30@38c; 200,000 lbs super and X pulled at 32@53⅜c, and one choice lot of Maine super as high as 60c; 1,000 lbs tub at 51c, and 6,600 lbs scoured at 45@$1 ₩ lb. The sales of foreign include [illegible] lbs Cape to go to Canada on private terms; [illegible] lbs Cape at 34; 10,000 lbs choice Australian [illegible] 80c; 12,000 lbs Cape pulled at 47@55; 25,[illegible] Mestiza pulled on private terms; 11,000 lbs Smyrna at 26@30, and 52,000 lbs Port Phillip 54c ₩ lb. In skins sales of 280,000 lbs Buenos Ayres sheep at 28c, and 30,000 lbs Cape at about 8c ₩ lb.—Post.

Stoppage of Nail Manufacture.

We are informed that the manufacturers of nails in New England have unanimously agreed to stop their works during the greater part of the months of July and August. The reason alleged is that heavy stocks of nails have accumulated, and the market has thereby been crowded down below the manufacturing cost. A similar action on the part of the Pittsburgh manufacturers, noticed in western papers, a few days since, tends to show that over production is not confined to New England alone. The necessity of stopping is to be regretted, since many families are dependent upon the operations of the nail factories for their support.—Boston Advertiser, 25th.

RIVER NEWS.

—The Sioux City Journal of 24th says: The May Lowrie, Captain Noss, will leave Yankton this afternoon with a trip of Government supplies for the Crossing. The Mollie Moore, Captain Dave Haney, arrived at Yankton from Rice, Saturday. She is loading with Government supplies for Buford and will leave to-day. The Hiram Wood arrived here on Sunday evening from Randall. Her freight consisted of 500 sacks of flour, from St. James; 650 bushels of wheat, from Ionia; and 151 hides from Yankton Agency.

—The recent fine stage of water in the Arkansas River has enabled a stock of 200,000 bushels of Upper Ohio coal to be sent safely to the Little Rock market, something the people of that town never had before, and next winter they will enjoy the pleasure of burning good fuel at reasonable prices.

—A lad, fourteen years of age, named Joseph Reynolds, committed suicide by plunging into the river from the Frank Beck, Jr., near Vicksburg, a few days since. His excuse was that he was tired of life, and did not wish to live any longer. He was an orphan, and had been very kindly cared for by the officers of the Beck.

—The Missouri River has made a "cut off," 4 miles southwest of Onawa, making an island of what has been known as the Big Bend, containing about 1,500 acres of timber. It is probable the old channel will now fill up and the land become a part of Nebraska.

—In the bottom of the Solomon river, in Kansas, near its confluence with the Smoky, have been discovered springs of coal oil bubbling up, and there is a great excitement in that section.

—Mr. Matson, late steward of the Thompson Dean, has abandoned the river and entered into an arrangement with Captain Malin, proprietor of the Laclede Hotel. He takes charge on the 1st of July.

—The Madison Courier says: Captain David Whitton, for many years connected with the Mail Line, has retired from river life. Capt. C. David has succeeded Capt. Whitton in command of the Gen Lytle.

—The officers of the Pauline Carroll reported at Memphis, Thursday, that the John Kyle was anchored in the middle of a chute, 40 or 50 miles above there, but did not learn what injury she had sustained, as the Kyle gave no signals.

—The New Orleans Times says: "It is to the barge line that we are indebted for our present unusual facilities, and it deserves the proper credit."

—Will C. C. Daggett, son of Jno Daggett, of the Sectional Dock, St. Louis, died Monday of consumption at the age of 35 years, and was buried Wednesday.

Captain J. T. Russel, formerly commander of the R. H. Hudson, has libeled that boat at Wheeling.

—The Mary Davage has laid up at the foot of Rising Sun to await water. She has 3 barges laden with iron ore.

—The Texas broke her shaft below Alexandria, on Red River, Monday, while en route from New Orleans to Shreveport.

—New Orleans parties are in Cincinnati negotiating for the Henry Probasco for the New Orleans and Grand Ecore trade.

—The St. Louis City Council has appropriated $25,000 for a harbor tug.

—The Illinois shipped a crew of roustabouts at St. Louis, Wednesday, at $50 ₩ month.

—The steamer Laura No. 2 is a daily packet between Belleville, W. Va. and Marietta.

—Gallipolis collected $51 wharfage last week.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.

This institution was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination, they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

GIRARD MEDICAL INSTITUTE,
No. 172 Second avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Office hours 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Sundays by appointment.

Prostrated by the Heat.

An old [illegible] man named Edward Jackson, while proceeding to the Union Depot, about two o'clock yesterday afternoon, was overcome by the heat on the board walk in the vicinity of the [illegible]. He was picked up and carried down to Case, Reed's [illegible] at the corner of [illegible], and Dr. McCoy summoned, who, after considerable working, restored him to consciousness. He was afterwards removed to his boarding house on Fifth avenue by his friends.

N. P. Bonds as Securities.

Each $100 bond of the Northern Pacific Railroad is secured by fifty acres of land, besides being a lien on the franchise and all the personal property of the road, including its telegraph line. The bonds are made receivable for land at $110, so that anyone desiring so to do can convert his bonds into land at any time, making his own selection. In this way he is secure against all contingencies. Interest is payable semi-annually, in gold. Bonds can be had of the banks in the city.

Survey Committee.

[illegible] on Saturday afternoon in the City Engineer's office. The plan of Carson street on the South Side, which is to be improved under the provisions of the Penn avenue act, was presented and approved. A sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Duff, Herron and Morgan, was appointed on the Ellsworth avenue grade. Messrs. Kirk, Maple and Fetterman were appointed a sub-committee to consider the grade of Wylie and Webster avenues. Profiles of Howley, John and Mary streets were presented, and will be recommended to Councils for approval.

Kicked to Death by a Horse.

On Saturday evening a German named Otto, a driver in the employ of Messrs. Beckert & Co., gardeners, in Reserve township, while in the stable attending his horses, was kicked by one of the animals in the arm and stomach. His arm was fractured and the kick in the stomach rendered him insensible, and inflicted terrible internal injuries. Medical aid was summoned and the man was afterwards removed to the Homoeopathic Hospital, on Second avenue, where he died yesterday afternoon from the effects of his injuries. Coroner West was notified.

[illegible]

The alarm of fire from box 95 at nine o'clock [illegible] fire in Reymer & Bros. [illegible] corner Frankstown avenue and Enterprise street. The damage [illegible] about two hundred [illegible], mostly by water, which ran down [illegible] a large quantity of sugar which was stored in the cellar. It is covered by insurance. Shortly after nine o'clock another alarm was sounded from box 62 which was caused by a fire in the core drying house of Smith's foundry, corner of Twenty-third and Smallman streets. It was extinguished with about one hundred and fifty dollars damage. Insured.

Y. M. C. A. Monthly Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held at their room on Saturday evening last. Besides the usual reports of committees, [illegible] quite an interesting account of open-air meetings held this season was given, and suggestions made by several of those present in reference to the further prosecution of the work.

The meeting elected the following persons delegates to the International Convention, to be held at Poughkeepsie, on the 9th of July: Rev. J. H. W. Stuckenberg, Messrs. H. K. Porter, Yates Hickey, John S. Moore, C. G. Milnor, James Laughlin, Jr., S. A. Taggart, S. C. Kier, W. R. Jennings, J. W. Baldwin and R. A. Orr.

Railroad Changes.

Next Sunday a new schedule will go into effect on the Connellsville Railroad. An addition of several new trains will be made, including two express trains to Baltimore, one leaving in the morning and the other in the evening, and two arriving in the same manner. The high accommodation train will be run regularly, and another train for the benefit of the business men will be added, which will arrive in the city before eight o'clock, A. M. The offices of the General Superintendent, E. K. Hyndman, Esq., and the Resident Engineer, W. H. Taylor, Esq., are to be removed to Connellsville, the President, Secretary and Treasurer, General Freight Agent and Auditor's offices to remain in the building at the foot of Grant street.

THE FIFTH AVENUE GRADE.

The Proposed Reduction—A Visit by the Committee.

The committee appointed to examine into the practicability of reducing the grade of Fifth avenue at its intersection with Wylie street met on Saturday afternoon and went over the ground. Profiles of the different streets to be affected by the cut were examined and the opinions of residents of the hill heard. According to the estimates made, the highest point of the hill is about forty-one feet higher than Smithfield street. It is also about seven feet higher than High street, where it crosses Wylie, and twenty feet higher than Fourth avenue. There are several propositions as to the cut that should be made, but opinion favors a cut of seventeen to twenty feet at Grant. A cut of twenty feet at that point would reduce the grade from Smithfield to about three and a half feet to the hundred, which would make an almost imperceptible grade. It is thought that a cut of this kind would be most acceptable to those who would be affected by it, and if made it would necessitate a cut on Grant, from Fourth to Sixth avenues, on Ross to Fourth, and on Wylie to High. Eastward the cut would run to the vicinity of Chatham street. After about two hours [illegible] it is possible a [illegible] be agreed upon and submitted to the Street Committee on Wednesday evening.

STONING TRAINS.

Arrest of One of the Stone-throwers After a Lively Chase.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company from time to time have been seriously annoyed by boys and rowdies throwing stones at passing trains. To stop this nuisance and danger to the traveling public they have offered a standing reward of fifty dollars for any person caught stoning a train. As conductor Robertson, of the Sunday Wall's accommodation, was going through the cars of his train yesterday collecting the fares, he came upon a man named John Carroll and another, who claimed to be employees of the road and refused to pay their fares. The Conductor, not knowing them, naturally refused to let them ride, and told them they must either pay or get off. So when near East Liberty he stopped his train and ordered the men off. They complied with the request, and as soon as the train commenced to move off they began stoning the Conductor, and apparently not caring whether they struck him or the passengers. As the train was going slowly at the time they kept up with it and continued hurling the missiles. When almost in East Liberty officer Quirk hove in sight, and he was notified by the Conductor of the occurrence. The officer then went in pursuit of the pair, and after a lively [illegible] fences, walls, etc., for about a mile, succeeded in capturing John Carroll, whom he brought to the Central station. Carroll claims he works for the road and was entitled to ride, as was the other, who is a brakeman. The latter escaped. Carroll will be heard this morning.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

Judge Stowe's Opinion in the Case of Samuel Chadwick vs. the City of Pittsburgh.

In the Court of Common Pleas on Saturday morning, Judges Sterrett and Stowe [illegible], a decision was rendered by the latter in the case of Samuel Chadwick vs. the City of Pittsburgh [illegible] application for a preliminary injunction to restrain the City Treasurer from collecting taxes under the equalized assessments of the Board of Revision. The Judge in giving the opinion said that he and Judge Sterrett had come to the conclusion that the motion for a preliminary injunction should be denied. There had been a difference of opinion as to whether the Board of Revisers had been properly elected. Judge Sterrett holding that the Board was not legally constituted. He had held the opposite opinion and after further consideration Judge Sterrett acquiesced. He stated that there was [illegible] very important matter [illegible] in this case which should be referred [illegible]. After these proceedings had been commenced Councils had provided a Committee of Appeals, and this action had relieved the Courts, as it had remedied a very serious defect. [illegible]

JUBILATING JUVENILES.

Saturday Evening's Concert in the Allegheny Parks—Thousands of Hilarious Children—How They Enjoyed Themselves.

The grand juvenile jubilee, celebrating the closing of the schools of Allegheny city, came off Saturday evening, as [illegible], in West Park. It was an immense success. At four o'clock in the evening the pupils of the different wards assembled in their respective school houses, where they formed in line, each teacher heading her own scholars, which marched three abreast, and some four, to the ground, where they were assigned their quarters, the camp ground of each ward being designated by a finger-board. The Second, Third and Fourth Wards turned out the largest number of pupils, and the children as they marched along the streets attracted particular attention by the good order they preserved and the excellent manner in which they kept time, evoking frequent applause from the people on the sidewalks. The Fourth Ward was headed by a brass band, which met the line near the Hampton monument in East Park.

The following figures which were obtained from one who knows, will convey a fair idea of the number of the jubilating juveniles that were present:

First ward	400
Second ward	1,200
Third ward	1,400
Fourth ward	800
Fifth ward	500
Sixth ward	800
Seventh ward	400
Eighth ward	200
Colored school	100
Total	5,800

Add to that sum the children that did not march to the ground in ranks and those present from Pittsburgh and it will foot up in the neighborhood of seven thousand. The babies, of which there was quite a large number, are not included in this estimate. Counting the adults, there were present in the Park on Saturday evening fully ten thousand men, women and children. Excellent order was preserved throughout the entire entertainment, and not a single child did we observe engaged in a quarrel. They all appeared to be on their good behavior, and plumed themselves on abstaining from the commission of any juvenile indiscretions about which they might have been subsequently taken to task. The teachers apparently vied with each other in turning out the most neatly dressed and the most obedient school. As an instance of the excellent discipline that one teacher maintained among her pupils, it is only necessary to state that she carefully marched them to the plot of ground set apart for her school, and when the command was given to break ranks and disperse she was not present to repeat the order to her scholars, having been called away, and when she returned some time after she found them demurely sitting around and wistfully watching their hilarious companions in the very height of enjoyment. They were not long in taking advantage of the permission accorded them to "go in on their muscle." So noisy was the happiness of the children that the music was in a great measure drowned, but not a single breast fostered a desire that the enjoyment might be repressed in order that the music might be heard. Shortly after five o'clock great black clouds began to roll up the western sky and the ominous rumbling of distant thunder presaged a heavy rain, but it seemed as though "Old Probabilities" in compliance with an universal desire concluded to avert the impending storm and the clouds rolling off along the northern horizon dispersed far up the river. However, a vast number of persons, fearful of being caught in a rain, wended their way off home, and the assemblage in the Park was consequently very materially reduced.

In addition to the instrumental music, which was furnished by the Great Western Band, Prof. McCabe, with a class of young ladies, favored the gathering with some vocal music, "America" being given in excellent style, but the singing of it could only be heard by those in the immediate vicinity of the pavilion.

By seven and a half o'clock the music was all [illegible], the immense crowd gradually melted away, leaving distributed here and there on the benches an occasional pair of lovers, who, sheltered by the nearing darkness, determined to make good use of the opportunity, even if the rain did come down to listen to their loving words.

A STRANGE STORY.

An Oil City Romance—Heirs of an Old Virginia Estate Residing There—Claimants for $200,000—How They Were Cheated Out of Their Money—A Case for the Lawyers.

The Oil City Derrick tells a strange story of how one of its denizens has been cheated out of her share of a $200,000 Virginia estate. The principal of the tale is a Mrs. Brown, an aged colored woman, who, the Derrick says, is a person, "though poor and black, whose evidence would be taken in any Court in this section." Her story is, that she, with the other legatees, some two hundred in number, were the slaves of John Fox, of Fauquier county, Va. Fox was a bachelor, and died seized of a very valuable estate, and large personal property, aside from the slaves. The property is situate on the banks of the north branch of the Rapahannock river, about ten miles north of Sealion Station, on the Orange & Alexandria railroad. Fox died in 1858 or 1859, leaving a will which bears date November 15, 1839. This will was regularly admitted to probate and attested as Fox's last will in the Circuit Court of Fauquier county, April 5, 1859. Elizabeth P. Blackwell, sister of the testator, who had been named in the will as sole executrix of it, after securing the probate, refused to act under the will, probably for the reason that she was not a beneficiar under it. Therefore the same court subsequently granted letters of administration to John P. Philips and Charles P. Chilton, and accepted their sureties in the sum of $300,000.

According to the will, a certified copy of which Mrs. Brown has, the slaves were all to be set free, sent to Ohio and provided with homes out of the proceeds of the sale of the estate. The will, however, was kept quiet, and the slaves held by the trustees until the war came, when they were made free by the Emancipation Proclamation. After the war the most of the people left the plantation and were scattered through the country. Some of them live in Oil City, some in Corry, some in Washington, and about fifty or sixty only remain on the plantation, and they would not stay if they could get enough of their own money to take them elsewhere.

The estate passed through the hands of several trustees, each one of whom became rich, until it finally came under control of the ex rebel General John S. Mosby and a lawyer named James, who still holds it. The heirs in the estate were told, it is said, by these trustees, that $10,000 was due and would be distributed as soon as they (the heirs) would sign an agreement to leave the estate to be managed by the trustees. The agreement was signed, but the money never came.

Mrs. Brown was lately called to the plantation to visit her sister who was ill, and while there showed a copy of the will to Mosby and James, and told them she would press the case. They threatened her and finally offered to compromise by paying a small sum, but she refused. Upon her return to Oil City she told the story, and is now anxious for some sharp lawyer to undertake the case and make "a fat fee." That the story in brief as elaborated [illegible] and for the [illegible]

CORONER'S WORK YESTERDAY.

The Allegheny and Monongahela River—Each [illegible] a Drowning Case.

Coroner West yesterday held an inquest on the body of an unknown man found drowned in the Monongahela river at Hays & Bros. coal tipple at Six mile Ferry. The deceased had probably floated down stream and had been in the water for a long time, as the body was in a very much decomposed condition. He was apparently a native of Ireland, about forty years of age. He was dressed in corduroy pants and blue drilled shirt, five feet ten inches in height, heavy set, and has red hair and chin whiskers. There was nothing about his person by which he could be identified. A verdict of "found drowned" was rendered.

DROWNED IN THE ALLEGHENY.

The Coroner, yesterday afternoon, was notified to hold an inquest on the body of John Cass, aged twelve years, residing on Virgin alley, between Wood and Smithfield streets, who was drowned on the Allegheny side of the river, near the Suspension bridge. How the boy was drowned is somewhat of a mystery. A man named Kerr, who saw the boy fall into the water, states that immediately before the boy fell in, he saw two boys leave in a skiff, and left the boy standing at the foot of the bridge pier, when shortly after another skiff came along and he made a leap for it, and missed it, falling into the water. The skiff pulled away, heedless of the result, for the other side, where the boys left it and ran up the levee. Mr. Kerr, who was in a skiff, immediately rowed to the assistance of the boy, and jumped into the river after him, but after diving two or three times after him, he was unsuccessful in recovering the body. He then again got into his skiff and rowed back in order to get a dry suit of clothes and resume the search. In the meanwhile, during the time he was gone, a Mr. Scott recovered the body and brought it to its home. The inquest [illegible] seven [illegible] till this evening at [illegible] o'clock, in order [illegible] who were in the skiff with him [illegible], and who left him on the pier,

THE MINERS.

The Trouble About the Screen Bill—The Operator Said to be Combined—Threatened Strike.

All is not harmonious between the operators and the coal miners, and the rumors of a strike have now settled down to the general statement that operations will cease on Tuesday morning. The new screen law has created the trouble. It provides that the operators may make special contracts with the miners, if such a compromise can be effected. Taking advantage of the clause it is said the operators have notified [illegible] generally that all the contracts that will [illegible] will be an adherence to the present [illegible] methods of screening. This, if agreed to, practically does away with the new screen law, the inauguration of which the miners celebrated the other day. The operators claim that matters as they stand at present are fair all around, and that the new screen law, if carried into effect, would give the miner such an advantage that no operator could run his mine except at a positive loss. Already several of the pits have closed. It is said that the limit of time given the miners for accepting the contract proposed is this evening. In case they refuse, which seems to be the outlook now, the miners will shut down.—And a "lockout" be inaugurated to-morrow morning. This is about the gist of the situation at present. The result will be looked to with interest.

A preliminary injunction was granted in the case of Jno. T. Williams vs. W. W. Wallace, restraining the defendant from manufacturing and selling horse hay rakes.

BUTLER STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Argument on the Motion for a Preliminary Injunction Against O'Neill, Flynn & Co.

On Saturday morning, before Judge Kirkpatrick in the District Court, the argument was heard on the application of W. W. Wallace et al., property owners on Butler street, for a preliminary injunction to restrain Messrs. O'Neill, Flynn & Co. from laying the Wycoff pavement on Butler street.

Messrs. Marshall and Brown appeared for complainants and Messrs. Barton and Acheson for the respondents.

The case was opened by Mr. Marshall, who read the bill of complainants, also affidavits from Lockhart Frew, Andrew Lyons and R. E. Breed, the two latter being commissioners. The answer of Messrs. O'Neill, Flynn & Co., contractors, and of Messrs. Smith, Erny & Bendle, a majority of the members of the Commission, was read by Mr. Barton. He also offered several affidavits from engineers residing in the eastern cities, showing the excellent quality of the Wykoff pavement. The Court declined to hear the latter affidavits on the ground that the pavement itself did not enter into the case, and the Court did not propose to give judgment on a matter that it did not pretend to have any practical knowledge of.

Mr. Marshall's argument was to the effect that the application for an injunction was based on the ground that the contract was illegally executed for the reason that the meeting was not properly called and was held after the President of the Board had called a meeting for two days subsequent. Mr. Barton on behalf of the respondents argued that the contract was legally awarded and executed. The application for an injunction he denominated as merely an attempt to prevent the majority of the Commissioners from doing their duty under the law; and the charges of bribery and corruption so far as Messrs. O'Neill, Flynn & Co. were concerned, were shown by a full investigation to be without any foundation whatever. Mr. Acheson followed Mr. Barton for respondent and Major A. M. Brown closed the argument for complainant, after which the Court took charge of the papers.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY.

The Annual Commencement Exercises.

On Friday evening, at the Third Presbyterian Church, on Sixth Avenue, the Western University held its annual commencement exercises. The house was well filled with the friends and patrons of the institution. The Great Western band had been engaged, and discoursed sweet sounds, though sometimes somewhat inappropriate to the time and place. The following is the programme as given:

Music—Great Western Band; Prayer—Rev. Mr. Milligan; Music; Salutary Oration in Latin—Joseph M. Duff; Oration—"Human Limitations," Alexander Gordon, [illegible] Harper; Music; Oration—[illegible] Why," Harry Pemberton; Oration—"Leveling," Theodore Stengel; Oration—"Fallen Greatness," William D. Hartupee; Music; Oration—"Misapplied [illegible]," David J. Johns; Oration—"The Modern Journalist," [illegible] Rogers; Music; Poem—"College Life," Frank A. Barr; Oration—"The Power of Ridicule," with Valedictory Addresses, Harry B. Gill; Music; Oration for the degree of Master of Arts—"Our Young Men," John P. Rogers; Music; Degrees Conferred by the President, Dr. Woods; Music; Benediction, by Rev. Dr. White, of Butler; Music.

Some of the orations were really of much merit and showed considerable study. The poem "College Life," read and written by Mr. Frank A. Barr, was well delivered and showed that that young gentleman possesses considerable talent.

The following were the degrees conferred: M. A., Messrs. John P. Rogers. A. B. Sceibert and W. H. Knox. B. A., George H. Rogers, Frank A. Barr, Harry B. Gill, Joseph M. Duff, Alex. Gordon, Jun., Charles S. Harper and Harry Pemberton. Ph. B., Theodore Stengel, William D. Hartupee and David J. Johns.

Rev. Dr. Alfred Nevin received the degree of Doctor of Laws, L. L. D., and Rev. Alexander M. Stewart had the degree of Doctor Divinity conferred upon him, D. D.

The commencement was a success and reflects much credit upon the Faculty.

....On Saturday a man on River avenue, Allegheny, had his leg broken by a pile of boards falling upon him.

....A boy on Madison avenue, Allegheny, yesterday received a broken arm by falling on a pile of boards.

....The grocery store of A. Veime, No. 47 Pride street, was feloniously entered on Saturday night, but nothing taken.

....On Saturday morning at Sewickley, on the West Penn road, a child was killed by being run over by an express train.

....During the children's jubilee in Allegheny Park on Saturday evening a little boy named Mangold had his shoulder dislocated by falling over another boy.

....A wagon lost a wheel on Main street, Allegheny, on Saturday night,—all because it came in contact with a lamp post, through the machinations of a runaway horse.

....Mr. S. R. McLean whose financial irregularities created such a flutter some days ago, is reported to be luxuriantly reposing at the Clifton House at Niagara Falls on the Canada side.

....On Saturday evening two Manchester railway cars had narrow escapes while coming down Federal street, Allegheny. The brakes would not work, and they came down at a terrible speed. Fortunately nobody was hurt.

....Our editors' library is enriched through the courtesy of Hon. Thos. Ewing, with the first bound volume of the debates of the Constitutional Convention. The book is very creditably printed and bound by Benj. Singerly, the State Printer.

....Mr. J. Gangswisch, the brewer, complains of boys stealing the revenue stamps off his beer kegs. On Saturday two of the lads were caught and Mr. G. wanted to make an information before Alderman Thomas against them, but he declined to entertain it for want of jurisdiction.

....The suit brought by three girls before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, against Messrs. Birmingham, Watson & Co., proprietors of the Anchor cotton mill, has been compromised by the proprietors furnishing honorable discharges to the girls and paying the costs of the suit.

....A son of Mr. James A. Haines, residing at No. 213 Lacock street, Allegheny, while playing among some board piles near the Hand street bridge, pulled a pile of them down on him, which covered him completely. He was extricated by members of the Columbia Boat Club. He was considerably bruised. Dr. Cooper is attending him.

....The following important changes in the Pennsylvania Railroad time-table has been made: The Philadelphia express leaves at 4:40 P. M. instead of 5:20; the fast line leaves daily at 6:40 P. M. instead of 8:50; the Southern express 11:41 A. M. daily, except Sundays; Pacific express 2:50 A. M. daily. The Johnstown accommodation leaves ten minutes earlier. The way passenger train will arrive at 8:05 P. M., instead of 9:50.

....Mr. James M. Atkinson, Superintendent of the City Water Works, has written a letter to the Mayor giving him permission to use the fire plugs in the lower part of the city every Saturday during the summer, between the hours of 5 and 6 P. M., for the purpose of washing the gutters out and cleansing the streets as much as possible of the filth that collects on them. The plugs will be open on Saturday next under the supervision of the police.

....A woman named Mrs. Feiffer who lived on Seventeenth near Carson street on the South Side died very suddenly on Saturday. She was taken ill while her friends were absent from the house, and died in about four hours. Before her death she told those in attendance to inform her friends, in case she died before their return, that she desired them to pay all her debts and have all her earthly matters satisfactorily arranged. It was at first reported that she died of cholera, but a physician gave a certificate to the effect that her death was caused by heart disease.

....One of the numerous [illegible] minstrel boys who perambulate the streets of Pittsburgh at all hours of the day and part of the night, branched out in a new and paying [illegible] on Saturday last. He was a ragged, dirty-faced little fellow, apparently about nine years of age, and his bright black eyes shone out from under a comical sort of cap, which with the rest of his make-up, gave him a decidedly odd appearance. He would station himself at the other end of the Hand street bridge, and waiting until a Pleasant Valley street car came along he would jump up on the step behind, and standing there, industriously [illegible] the pleasure of the passengers until the Pittsburgh side was reached, when he would take off his cap and pass it around for pennies. It never [illegible] returned empty. After pocketing his money he would walk back over the bridge and wait for the next car, only to go through the same operation, which was kept up all afternoon.

EXCITING PASTIMES.

Lively Running [illegible] Saturday Night—Prize Fight Spoiled—[illegible] Participants Captured—A General Stampede.

The rear of the Dispatch building is a classical region. Between the backs of two beautiful brick buildings is a yard. This yard with its elegant surroundings is [illegible] graced by beautiful remnants of departed lunches, pieces of type cases, old boards and barrels, and the reporters' old hats. This exquisite place is often the resort of "obfusticated" printers, and it is not seldom come there to settle their disputes, to the disgust of the sober types and enlightenment of the editorial staff. Happy are the scribblers of that journal in being so near home [illegible] items. On Saturday night a party of gay and festive youths sported about Smithfield street for a time and visited various saloons, where from drinking, they proceeded to disputing the several Herculean strengths of certain gents in the city. The matter, however was finally settled, a wrestling match being agreed upon between the respective friends of both parties, and the ground chosen. As is natural, money was no object, so a little stake was made up for the winner. The ground chosen was the classical Dispatch yard, where after doffing their coats, hats and vests, the combatants entered the arena. Sentinels however had previously been thrown out on Fifth avenue front of the building and in Virgin alley, to watch for the police. As such things usually go, the wrestling proved not exciting enough, and a little more money was raised for an improvised prize fight. This was what was wanted. Round one went calm and smoothly till one of the combatants fell over one of the editor's pots, and foul was called. The second was more pointed, for one of the men striking a sharp stick, foul was again called, and the round closed. The third round was a settler. About this time the police were aroused by the noise, and a little strategy was displayed. Isaiah Goldner, one of the participants, was immediately captured, but his opponent, J. H. Case, was on the run, with officers, dogs, lieutenants, and a regiment of innocent youths in pursuit. In the meantime two officers had gone down Holtzheimer's restaurant, to head off abettors; several came strutting through, and striking the street door made a lively dash for freedom. Now another chase was in progress, but not so lively. While this excitement was going on, Goldner broke from the grasp of officer Cupples and another lively chase ensued, in which John Irwin, the Chief of Police joined. Now it was exciting, much running and loud cries of "stop him," made the air resonant. Goldner as a runner was more successful than as a prize-fighter, but he was finally captured and taken to the lock-up. Later, J. H. Case the other participant was captured [illegible] during [illegible] the Mayor who fined Goldner ten dollars and costs and Case, five dollars and costs, for disorderly conduct. Another young gentleman who was stake-holder was captured. He left fifteen dollars for his appearance in the morning, but did not show up. The latter is only recently from Yale College and is the son of one of our most prominent members of the bar.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

A Man Jumps Into the Monongahela [illegible]

Some few days ago a man named J[illegible] Worth came to this city from [illegible]ersburg, bearing testimonials as to his abilities as a teacher and school principal. His abilities were such that he was immediately engaged as principal in one of the lower ward schools on the South Side. He accepted the position. On Saturday afternoon he hired a skiff on the South Side, and when about midway in the stream, he jumped out, and attempted to commit suicide. His leap was seen by several parties, who hastened to his rescue. He was taken out alive and taken to the Central station, where he was locked up, and where he vowed he would commit suicide. He was discharged by the Mayor yesterday.

AN ALLEGHENY TRAGEDY.

A Child Killed on East Street, by being Struck on the Head with a Stump, which is Hurled Down the Hill—Escape of the Perpetrators.

Last evening, between four and five o'clock, a sad and deplorable tragedy was enacted on the side of the hill on East street, in the Seventh, near the line of the Third ward, Allegheny. From what could be learned, a number of children were playing at the foot of the hill, during the afternoon, and enjoying themselves. About three o'clock a party of came along at the top of the hill and commenced to throw stones at the children below to see how near they could come to hitting them. They were ordered to quit, but they kept on their stone throwing to the danger of the children playing at the foot of the hill. At last as a dernier resort the police were called and they ordered and go about their business. They went away, and stayed away from the spot probably about an hour or more, when they returned. It is alleged then, that one of the men picked up a

THE MEN TO QUIT,

and hurled it down the hill with great force. A number of children were playing there at the time, and the stump came down with all its force against the back of the head of a little boy named Harry Young, crushing his skull, and from the effects which he died in about ten minutes after. The killing of the child created in the neighborhood, and the hill was scoured for the culprit, who was nowhere to be found. The child was carried to its home near by, where his parents, nearly heartbroken at their sudden bereavement, received its mangled corpse. Parties in the vicinity who saw the four men on the hill in the early part of the afternoon say they could easily recognize them again if they could only see them. Last evening a man named Abraham Elliott appeared before Mayor Callow and made an information charging a man named in killing the child. The Mayor accordingly made out a warrant and officers with the assistance of some of the citizens in the neighborhood started in search of the perpetrator, but up to a late hour last night they were unsuccessful in capturing him. The Coroner was notified, but owing to the he postponed the inquest until half past nine o'clock this morning at his office on Grant street.

FOUCHT WITH MANSLAUGHTER

What motive there can be for a man to hurl down a deadly missile at children playing can hardly be accounted for, but that it was done is sure, and an innocent child brought to an untimely grave. It is hoped that the perpetrator may be caught and that the full measure of the law be meted out to him.

Cholera may be prevented by the judicious use of DR. HARRIS' CRAMP CURE.

To Prevent Cholera.

The men at one of our largest rolling mills have adopted the plan of putting a bottle of DR. HARRIS' CRAMP CURE in a bucket of water, and taking a cup full three or four times daily. They find it a sure prevention of diseases incident to the warm weather.

The plan might with advantage be adopted at other similar establishments.

At the mill referred to we are told that not a single case of cholera morbus, diarrhoea or Dysentery occured during last summer.

DISCIPLINE THE LIVER.

The liver is truly an "unruly member." Sometimes it is torpid and secretes too slowly, at other times it is unnaturally active and sends forth a perfect freshet of bile. Regulate this organ with Hostetter's Bitters, not with calomel or blue mass. Mineral extracts, in stimulating the liver, poison the blood, and their ultimate effect is terrible. The Bitters, on the other hand, have a vitalizing and purifying, as well as a stimulating effect. They not only regulate the flow of bile, but infuse new life into the whole system. A good appetite and perfect digestion, a regular, natural habit of body, a sound condition of the nervous system, vivacity of spirits, increased bodily strength and power of endurance, and refreshing sleep are among the blessings they promote. The temperature of summer is a severe tax upon the digestive and secretive organs, and the Bitters are never more indispensable than at this period of the year.

FOR SALE.
100 Quarter and Half-Acre
LOTS, ALSO, THE FARM HOUSE AND BARN,
With 18 acres of ground and about 600 bearing Fruit Trees, of a Farm of 125 acres, adjoining the above Lots, and about twelve acres of Coal. All the above within five to ten minutes' walk from Walls Station, P. R. R. This property will be sold on easy terms, and can be seen at my office. This property offers more inducements for speculation than any property offered on the Pa. R. R. on account of the close proximity to the contemplated improvements of the P. R. R. Co. Inquire of
